Explore the Art Form of Bonsai

Join Us for The Beauty of Bonsai

Bonsai is an art form steeped in patience and contemplation, and a practice that provides tremendous satisfaction and joy. Experience the joy of this practice firsthand in the comfort of your own home. Join Bonsai Curator Kevin Bielicki online on February 17 at 12 pm as he shares the history of Longwood's bonsai collection, from the first specimens to our current collection. Learn from Kevin as he shares tips for growing bonsai, his favorite plants to train, and what you can expect when growing bonsai at home.

Learn Together with Our New Family Offering

Register Now! Learning Together: Jump Start Your Family Garden

Families come in all shapes and sizes (and ages!). So gather yours to learn how to create your very own family garden. Take this fully online course designed for adults and children (ages 5–10) to learn together on March 21 at 6:30 pm. Using a gardening kit that includes supplies and seeds to jump-start your garden (mailed to your home prior to the online class), discover the secrets of a successful family vegetable garden, including planning out a garden space, starting seeds, and making seed bombs—all to help you together create a thriving garden full of delicious possibilities and beautiful memories.

Please note: If your family includes multiple children, one registration will cover your entire group.
